Re: Addendum to Complaint against Jack Davis, et al.

Dear Sir or Madam:

Following is an addendum to a June 22, 2005 complaint filed against the Save American Jobs Association, the Save Jobs Party political committee, Jack Davis for Congress and Jack Davis. Specifically, the complaint challenged the tax status of the Save American Jobs Association under the Internal Revenue Code (hereinafter "IRC"), and sought an investigation into prohibited corporate in-kind contributions and reporting violations under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (as amended) (hereinafter "FECA"), and the Bipartisan Campaign Act of 2002 (hereinafter "BCRA"), as well as improper use of corporate contributions under New York state law.

The purpose of the addendum is to show continued coordination between the entities, as well as the introduction of a prohibited corporate, for-profit entity engaged in coordinated activities with and on behalf of the respondents.

ADDITIONAL EXHIBITS

The I Squared R Element Company is a for-profit company owned and managed by John R. "Jack" Davis. Jack Davis is the respondent in the complaint that has been filed and the founder of the Save Jobs Association and the Save Jobs Party.

On July 22, 2005, the I Squared R Element Company Inc., under the signature of President Jack Davis, lobbied for the defeat of legislation before the House of Representatives (attached as Exhibit 1), specifically the Dominican Republic-Central American Free Trade Agreement (DR-CAFTA, H.R. 3045).

This is consistent with the anti-trade rhetoric central to the defeated political campaign of Jack Davis for Congress, and the subsequent activities of the Save Jobs Party and Save American Jobs Association, both of which have engaged and continue to engage in similar activities (attached as Exhibits 2 and 3) as a vehicle for Davis to continue his political activities.

In the filed complaint, it was noted that Davis' various entities are in reality one in the same, where one subsidizes the other, includes duplicative information (including express campaign material being published by the non-profit), foists the same anti-trade campaign rhetoric on the public, and otherwise serves as a vehicle for Davis to self-promote.

As further evidence of that continued coordination, on July 28, 2005, Davis' not-for-profit entity, the Save American Jobs Association, and his political entity, the Save Jobs Party, promoted identical statements and activities (attached as Exhibits 4 and 5).

For the reasons stated in the original complaint, as well as the additional exhibits provided, we continue to respectfully request that the Save American Jobs Association be stopped from operating as 501(c)(4) non-profit; that Save American Jobs Association, the Save Jobs Party, Jack Davis and his campaign be fined for illegal use of corporate money, and in the event the Federal Election Commission finds that such violations were knowing and willful, refer the matter to the United States Department of Justice.

Respectfully submitted,

Bradley J. Stamm

Subject: CAFTA

Dear Fellow Businessman,

We should all be concerned about the economic consequences of our already astronomical and still growing trade deficit ($61. 2004) and the continuing loss of US manufacturing jobs. This year, the trade deficit is already running $100 Billion above last year's trade deficit will grow higher yet.

I believe that a significant source of this serious problem is the nation's continued commitment to poorly designed "free trade" agreements. The Dominican Republic-Central American Free Trade Agreement (DR-CAFTA) currently being considered is an example. While its proponents argue that it will stimulate the U.S. economy, the reality is that CAFTA is little more than an agreement for multinational corporations that will cost additional American factories and jobs. There are a number of reasons

1. The six countries involved with CAFTA have a combined GDP of $85 Billion... about the size of New Haven (CT). Over 40 percent of the population of these countries lives in poverty. These countries simply lack the purchasing power to become net consumers of US goods. Even the most optimistic forecasts predict that DR-CAFTA will only add a small amount to US exports, a drop in the bucket of our current trade deficit. Yet, DR-CAFTA would open the US Market to more cheap imports, further undercutting American manufacturers.
2. CAFTA would allow for more "turn-around" exports - products shipped south for assembly and then back north to the US. The result would be a net loss of US textile and apparel jobs. Already one third of our trade with these countries is in "turn-around" exports.
3. Chapter Nine of CAFTA invalidates "domestic procurement" laws. This means that, at a time when many middle class American jobs are being outsourced, state and federal agencies would be barred from legislating "buy America" in their purchasing decisions.
4. Passage of CAFTA would greatly influence future US economic policy. If Congress, the Executive Branch, and multinational corporate lobbyists are able to pass this trade agreement, the momentum in Washington will swirl seeking further outsourcing agreements, such as the Free Trade of the Americas Agreement, and a host of new trade agreements. We need to stop DR-CAFTA and start to re-think American trade policy so that our trade policy works for all Americans, not just the Wal*Marts and the multinational corporations.

Rep. Tom Reynolds has stated he will vote for DR-CAFTA when it comes up for a vote the end of this month.

Please call Rep. Reynolds and request that he vote NO on DR-CAFTA or in the very least, be absent for the vote.

In the final analysis, DR-CAFTA is nothing but a further assault on an already imperiled American middle class. If we are to remain a great potential as a country, and retain the strong, broad middle class that is America's singular political and economic achievement, we must fight to keep a vibrant manufacturing base and good jobs here in America. This means that we must resist the perceived short-term gain that cheap foreign goods bring to Wal*Mart shoppers and instead focus on a national trade policy that ensures America's long-term viability as a manufacturing based world power.

Thank you for your time,
Jack Davis
President, I Squared R Element Company

TRADE PACT HITS NY HARD LOCAL LEGISLATORS, LEADERS TELL DC TO NIX CAFTA

As the US Congress moves closer to a July vote on the proposed Central America Free Trade Agreement (CAFTA), a bi-partisan coalition of Western New York state legislators, community and business leaders urged our congressional delegation to vote against the pact.

Speakers at a Buffalo news conference Wednesday emphasized how CAFTA will have enormous LOCAL impact in Western New York.

"Rochester and Buffalo are financial basket cases – Erie had to lay off 1,300 public employees – because a ruthless form of free trade is destroying American jobs, farms and industries," says Jack Davis, Erie County industrialist and chairman of the Save Jobs Party.

"According to the government's own analysis, CAFTA will do nothing to help the American economy and will turn Central America into a back door for more duty-free imports from China.”

CAFTA provisions on government procurement policies forbid New York State from giving American businesses preference in government contracts. Speakers called on Gov. Pataki to rescind his agreement to abide by CAFTA procurement rules.

Assemblywoman Susan John, D-131, who attended the news conference, is sponsoring the Model Jobs, Trade and Democracy Act. The bill requires the governor to get legislative approval before signing on to free trade agreements like CAFTA that tie New York's hands in contracting and procurement.

Oppose the Central America Free Trade Agreement (CAFTA), that's the message to New York's Congressional delegation from the Save American Jobs Association.

CAFTA faces a vote in the House Ways and Means committee
 Wednesday.

Rep. Tom Reynolds sits on the panel, and has the opportunity to vote for what's good for his constituents, rather than what will make money for multinational outsourcers.

Rep. Reynolds has told the Associated Press he hasn't made up his mind on CAFTA.

Even CAFTA's supporters acknowledge the pact will make it easier for companies to take advantage of cheap labor south of the border. CAFTA would essentially extend NAFTA, the North

Studies show that NAFTA has cost New York State tens of thousands of lost jobs.

Sen. Schumer says he will vote NO on CAFTA; Sen. Clinton has not taken a position.

STATEMENT BY JACK DAVIS

Erie County industrialist and chairman of the Save American Jobs Association:

CAFTA passed by one vote and Americans will pay twice.

Once, for the pork and special favors the Administration used to buy the votes, and again with more jobs outsourced, more illegal immigration, lower living standards and higher taxes.

What we saw on display last night was truly the best government money can buy.

Tom Reynolds cast the job-killing vote that put CAFTA over the top. It was payback time for Tom.

The multinational corporate outsourcers and their Washington lobbyists buy Congress with campaign contributions and the rest of us pay.

living. For America to be strong, we must grow, dig, or make the products we consume.

The national Republican and national Democratic Parties support Free Trade policies, embodied in Free Trade Agreements such as NAFTA (North American Free Trade Agreement) and WTO (World Trade Organization) that are destroying America's economy.

Misguided trade policies have decreased wages for American workers and decreased profits for American farms and industries. These policies are responsible for a trifecta of record trade deficits, record budget deficits, and record personal deficits. Continuing these misguided policies amounts to national economic suicide.

CAFTA FAILS TO GET MAJORITY CONGRESS SNEAKS CAFTA THROUGH AT MIDNIGHT

Under the cover of darkness, the House of Representatives passed the Central America Free Trade Agreement with 217 votes at the midnight hour – literally. The House leadership held the “15 minute” vote open for an hour giving them time to twist arms and buy votes. They coerced the final few – short of a clear majority – and then closed the vote.
